attn: John McKeown

Dear Mr. McKeown:

Enclosed are photocopies of the Louisville City directories for 1865 and 1892. In our phone conversation I mentioned that I was able determine that the Kentucky Lead and Oil Company was in business on Ninth Street from 1865 until 1892. After that date it no longer appears in the directory.

In the 1865/1866 directory the company is listed under Haslett, Leonard & Co., manufactures of white lead and paints. An advertisement is also attached. In 1870 the company began to be listed as Kentucky Lead and Oil. The location throughout its business history seems to be consistent; on Ninth Street between Main and River (later called Water), "just one down from Main". Originally the address was 28 Ninth, later it was 101 Ninth. There was a re-numbering of the streets toward the end of the nineteenth century and this may account for the change in numbers.

I have also enclosed the last year in which the company appears in the directory under the name of Kentucky Lead and Oil. The directory has a topical index and there seems to be no company that fits its description so I assume that it has gone out of business or moved outside of the area covered by the directory (the city and part of the county) rather than changing its name.

I hope that this information is useful to you.

Sincerely,

L. Dale Patterson
Associate Archivist
